

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method for the formulation and delivery for administration of acid-labile drugs to human beings and other animals achieved by mixing the active pharmaceutical compound with a basic salt in a solution or suspension of any kind, where the basic salt solution or suspension protects the pharmaceutical compound from the adverse effects of gastric acid by neutralizing gastric acid.